W. D. OWEN NOT WELL

SUFFERING FROM SUNSTROKE, HE CURTAILED HIS SPEECH.

Candidate Jesse Overstreet Spoke from the Same Platform at Greencastle Yesterday. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, Ind., Sept. 4.-Hon. W. D. Owen, candidate for Secretary of State, and Hon. Jesse Overstreet, candidate for Congress in the Fifth district, opened the campaign for the Republicans in this rockribbed Democratic stronghold to-day before an audience that completely filled the courthouse, many standing in the alsies. Mr. Owen's train was late and he did not arrive until 2 o'clock. He was introduced by Hon. T. T. Moore, who explained that Mr. Owen was far from a well man. His condition is the reaction from a sunstroke he suffered some time ago. Mr. Owen, when he arose, also stated that he was hardly well enough to speak, but would talk a while any way. He spoke for nearly an hour and his severe arraignment of the Democratic party was received with great applause by his audience, which contained many Democrats. He told of the comparisons that had been made between the administrations of Cleveland and Jackson, and stated that had "Old Hickory" been in the White House no "party perfidy and party dishonor" bill would have become a law. The speaker took up, one by one, the errors of Democracy and tore them to shreds, showing how the eighteen months of Democracy had paralyzed the country. He used parts of the speech he had made at Peru, showing England to be but sixty miles away, economically, from the United States, and how wages in England were 67 per cent. less than in this country, and asked if the purposes of Wilson, Cleveland and others were carried out, how long this country would be able to produce goods against the country that pays 67 per cent. less wages. Mr. Owen showed that the Republicans, in their thirty-two years of control, had borrowed no money in times of peace to run the expenses of the government, nor had at any time increased the public debt, and that the United States recognize these thirty-two years as the most splendid page in the Nation's history. The destruction of the reciprocal rela-tions inaugurated by the McKinley bill, by the Democratic party, by driving back to the European nations the 90 per cent. of the trade of South American neighbors, which 90 per cent, this country was, at the time, rapidly acquiring, he characterized as a crime against American labor and ad-vancement and guaranteed that when the Republican party is restored in 1896, it will again extend reciprocity. On pension matters Mr. Owen stated the leading policy of Democracy had been against the soldier; that the controlling party had cut thirty thousand from their rightful possession. He referred to the tortuous route of a pension application from the examining board to its many examinations, until it was finally allowed, and then showed how ruthlessly it was cast aside for a "thirty-day examination for further evidence." He promised that one of the first acts of the Republicans on their return to power in 1896 will be to restore these pensioners to their rights. The speaker referred to Tom Reed's "billion dollar Congress" as legislation for a billion dollar country and not for a fifth-rate country such as the Democrats made of it when they were in power. He next showed how Democracy had now found this country to be a billion dollar country and that they spent $44,000,000 more money than did the Republicans; showing that walk the streets. Mr. Overstreet followed Mr. Owen in a speech of a half hour that was full of sound doctrine. He showed up how Congressman Cooper and Senator Voorhees had vacillated between the two horns of the Democratic dilemma in Congress and how Mr. Cooper had instituted an investigation of the pension department, which he afterwards turned over to another, out of which investigation had grown the Demo-cratic policy of suspended pensions. He said Mr. Cooper had been for the Wilson bill and then voted for the Senate bill. Mr. Overstreet's speech made him many friends here and made a very favorable impression. Mr. Cooper, his opponent, having many Democratic enemies in Putnam county. The meeting was a vote-winner and was an auspicious opening of the cam-

Voorhees Will Talk at Terre Haute.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 .- Senator Voorhees will begin the campaign by making his perennial speech to his faithful of Terre Haute on Sept. 18. He has become seriously alarmed at the news that Mr. Bynum will have the secret, but none the less, influential support of the congressional committee, at whose head is Senator Faulkner, Mr. Gorman's obedient lieutenant, in the gradually approaching sena-torial fight. Mr. Bynum's friends, of gramme announced in these dispatches, but the end will tell.

SECOND DAY OF RACING DEVEL-OPS NO SENSATIONAL SPEED.

Marietta Wilkes, T. N. B. and Harry K. the Winners-Directly Failed to Go Against His Record.

The second day of the driving club's meeting was successful in only one respect, the character of the racing. The fields were well classed, and every horse that won a heat yesterday made a new mark at the same time. There was nothing sensational in the performances, however. Far too many people were not out to see the races. Not more than one thousand people were in the grand stand yesterday afternoon, and it must have been somewhat dispiriting to the management of the club to see its arduous efforts to secure the best that can be had in trotting and pacing stock so inadequately recognized. There is nothing eleemosynary about the enterprise that laid the magnificent track at the fair grounds and has provided six race meetings of much more than average excellence, but if the attendance be not larger during the remaining days of the week than it was yesterday there would be nothing unreasonable in the gentlemen of the driving club considering whether it were worth while to continue existence as a trotting association. The dropping of the race meeting here now would be a misfortune to the city.

Doubtless many who stayed away yesterday from the fair grounds were satisfied in their own minds that after the rain of Monday night the track would be too heavy for good trotting or pacing. The track was a little heavy, but the summaries below show good time was made in every event. To-day it should be in the pink of condition. The state of the track yesterday precluded the possibility of giving Directly, the great young pacing stallion, a fair show in his announced effort to lower his and the world's record of 2:10%, and the event was postponed till to-day.

To-day bids fair to prove the most attractive of the week. The great little mare, Alix, will go against Nancy Hanks's record.

Directly will pace, and the pacer Albatross, with twelve-year-old Miss Edna Harris in the saddle, will strive to beat his record for a half mile, 1:00%. These are the speciais, while in the regular class events the entries are many and of the best quality. as may be seen from the list of probable starters printed below. The horses will be called at noon to-day, so that the unusually lengthy programme may be completed before sundown.

The features of yesterday's racing were the close finishes and the time in which most of them were made. The story of each race is told below. There was considerable speculation on the part of many present, though the bookmakers' prices were not particularly seductive.

The second race of the day, the 2:20 pace, was a contest of Indiana horses alone as it happened, and Ross & Dickerson's Angle D. made a fine fight against the Terre Haute entry capturing the $1,000 stake, but in vain. The 2:16 trot was left unfinished after five heats had been done. It will be finished to-day, and promises to provide excellent exercise for prophetic activities. THE TWO-YEAR-OLDS. The day's racing began with the 2:45 pacing event for two-year-olds, and half a dozen good-looking youngsters faced the starter. They were Alphonso Wilkes, b. c., by Petosky, owned by L. H. Smith, Arcanum, O.; Marietta Wilkes, ch. f., by Don Pizarro, owned by G. & C. P. Cecil, of Danville, Ky.; Phenom, br. c., by Director, from the Keystone stock farm, of Omaha, Neb.; Ben's Misfit, blk. s., by Ben Easton, owned by D. F. Marshall, of Hamilton, U.; Lottie Hornet, b. f., by Di-Freeland, from the Marvin stock farm, of Odell, Ind.; Luella Shawhan, blk. f., by Arrowwood, owned by Wachtel & Godman, of Muncie, Ind. Luella Shawhan was favorite on the books at even money, while Marietta Wilkes had takers at 4 to 2. The horses got away at the second scoring. Phenom at the pole and Don Pizarro's filly on the outside. Director's colt skipped in the first twenty yards and fell back. the chestnut filly crossing and taking the pole. Lucila Shawhan was going in good style, and she, Marietta Wilkes and Ben's Misfit led the field bunched. Along the back stretch Ray pushed Marietta Wilkes. The filly answered pluckily and looked a winner till the seven-eighths post was reached, when Ben's Misfit drew up and challenged her. The pace was too much for her and she gave way, the black stal-lion coming in a winner, followed by the filly, whipped, to keep second place from Luella Shawhan, Time, 2:191/4. For the second heat the price was advanced on Luella Shawhan to 4 to 5, the others standing as they did on the board for the first heat. Ben's Misfit got the best of the start, closely followed by Marletta Wilkes, Luella Shawhan, Al-phonso Wilkes and Phenom, in the order named. This was a pretty race along the back stretch, Ben's Misfit leading, but challenged by Marietta Wilkes, he fell back, and when they passed under the wire he was behind Phenom, who was a close follower of Marietta Wilkes, who won in 2:1914. Luella Shawhan was a length be-

They got the word on the second scoring, and the first thing seen was Luella Shawhan drawing away on the outside and crossing to pole position on Marietta Wilkes breaking. From the quarter mark to the half the quartet was strung out, Phenom leading Luella and the field. On the back stretch the Arrowwood filly closed up on Phenom, but the brown colt held his own, and in the last quarter drew away and won by a length and a half under the whip, Ben's Misfit holding third place, with Marietta Wilkes fourth. The time was 2.21½: A pretty feature of the finish was the way in which Ben's Misfit closed up on the leaders in the last

START OF A BIG FIELD. Twelve of the thirteen nominations scored up in the 2:16 trot. They were Prince Herschel, owned by Budd Doble, Chicago; Jennie K., owned by J. I. Case. Racine, Wis.; Georgie Lee, property of G. & C. P. Cecil, of Danville, Ky.; Alzippi, owned by Bert Fillman, Earlsville, Ill.; Piletta, owned by H. J. Smith, Batavia, Mich.; Gertrude, owned by Frank P. Doble, Elyria, O.; Don Cubit, owned by J. C. Bosworth, Fort Spring, Ky.; Maby, owned by J. G. Taylor, St. Louis; Mina Medium, owned by W. A. Paxton, Omaha, Neb.; Maud C., from Village farm, Buffalo, N. Y.; Happy Courier, owned by Ben John-sten, Bardstown, Ky.; Egyptienne, owned by Doug Thomas, Paris, Ky.

Gertrude was made favorite for the first heat at 3 to 2. Piletta being marked up at 6 to 2 and Alzippi and Prince Herschel at 4 to 2. Prince Herschel got the advantage of the start. The whole dozen were straggling between the quarter and half, but coming along the back stretch Alzippi, Prince Herschel, Don Cubit and Maby ranged together, and from the threequarters mark to the seven-eighths post they trotted abreast. As they entered the last eighth Alzippi drew out and came under the wire winner by a length in 2:144, Don Cubit second and Maby third. In the second heat Alzippi, Piletta and Gertrude were offered by the bookmakers at the same price, 4 to 2, Don Cubit at 6 to 2 and Maby at 10 to 2. After three false scorings the crowd was given the word and Alzippi, Don Cubit and Maby took the lead together. The trio kept close together way round to the three-quarters post, where Alzippi gave way and Don Cubit took the lead. Prince Herschel drew out from the rear lot and followed Maby home, coming in third. Alzippi got fifth being headed by Gertrude. Don Cubit's time was 2:11%. In the third heat Don Cubit was made

Herschel at 4 to 2, Piletta and Gertrude, 10 to 2. The scoring for the start was very tricky, and after being sent back four times the drivers were lectured by Starter times the drivers were lectured by Starter Walker, who threatened fines with considerable emphasis, that had the desired effect. After they did get away Don Cubit was leading, with Maby at his wheel, followed, close up, by Prince Herschel and Gertrude, the rest scattered. This order was kept to the half. In the back stretch Prince Herschel made a spurt and led for about fifty yards. Then the favorite took first place again and kept it to the finish, doing the mile in 2:1614. Jennie K. made a pretty spurt in the last quarter and headed Prince Herschel, finishing second. ed Prince Herschel, finishing second. In the fourth heat the horses stood on the boards at practically the same figures as in the preceding heat. Don Cubit led in the start, followed closely by Jennie K. and Prince Herschel. All the way round to the three-quarters mark it was give and take. Prince Herschel was leading at this point, with Piletta next behind him, Don Cubit going to third. Then the little mare, Nina Medium, of whom there were some expectations on the outside before the race was started, drew up toward the leaders, and in the last eighth passed them all and came under the wire a clever first in 2:14%. Prince Herschel second, Piletta third and the favorite fourth. In the fifth heat Nina Medium was Herschel and Don Cubit at 6 to 2 and Piletta at 8 to 2. The favorite got away first, followed by Prince Herschel and Don Cubit, and when the first eighth had been covered the Prince was at the pole and making the pace. At the quarter the leading horses were bunched, and at the three-eighths post Piletta was a little in advance of the others. He maintained his lead through the back stretch and came home a winner, with something to spare, in 2:1614. Prince Herschel was second and Geers managed to bring up Maud C. into third place. The trot was undecided and will be finished to-day, the horses being called at noon. Summary:

THE 2:30 PACE. The fourth and last race of the day, the 2:30 pace, brought out half a dozen starters-Harry K., owned by A. L. Thomas, Taylorsville, Ill.; Ella G., owned by James H. Then Harry K. broke and Cantab and Ella G. came through the back stretch together. Coming home McLaughlin's mare drew away and won a pretty race in 2:22%. Cantab a close second. In the second heat Cantab was made favorite at 3 to 5, with Ella G. at 2 to 1 and Harry K. at 4 to 1. Ella G. led the field of four to the three-quarter post, where Harry K. assumed the lead and finished winner of the heat in the very fast time, 2:161/4. In the third heat Harry K. was favorite at 1 to 2, Cantab going to 6 to 2 and Ella G. to 10 to 2. Harry K., at the pole, got well away, with J. J. after him. Ella G., in the last eighth made a plucky offers. in the last eighth, made a plucky effort to overhaul the favorite, but couldn't do it. She broke about ten yards from the wire, but recovered in an instant and came in ahead of J. J., who was third. Time, 2:234. Harry K. was stiffened to 2 to 10 in the betting on the fourth heat; Cantab, 6 to 2 and Ella G., 8 to 2. B. was posted as favorite at 1 to 2, Angle D. and Freeland were each quoted at 4 to 2, Alti at 8 to 2 and Pat Murphy at 15 to 2. After several false scorings the quintet got away together. At the quarter the favorite was leading by a length, but in the back stretch the gray gelding was overhauled by Angle D. and passed by her, the bay mare coming in an easy winner in a spanking gait, the rest strung out. The time was 2:1214. Alti was distanced early in the race. Angie D. was favorite for the second heat at 1 to 2, T. N. B. dropping to 3 to 2. A good start was made on the first scoring. The favorite lost her gait for half a second and T. N. B. headed Pat Murphy and the field and led to the half. Coming along the back stretch the favorite made great time, headed T. N. B. and passed him, soon making a gap of a couple of lengths be-tween herself and the Terre Haute grey. In the last eighth a pretty spurt was made by T. N. B., but Dickerson was too late. The two came under the wire almost together, but Angle D. had the advantage, though T. N. B. pased her five yards past the stand. The time was 2:12%. In the third heat T. N. B. was made favorite at even money, with Angle D, at 3 to 5. Angie D. broke immediately after clearing the wire and T. N. B. took pole position. At the quarter the two were neck and neck, the others far behind. Angie D. drew away to the half, but at the threequarter post T. N. B. was again alongside her. In the last eighth the gelding got the whip and finished first, pulled up. The time was 2:15. Time was lost in the last eighth and there was some murmuring at the finish. It did look as if Ben Walker could have pulled Angie D, in with little trouble, had he made any attempt, but the book-makers were perfectly satisfied. In the fourth heat T. N. B.'s price was stiffened to 2 to 5, and Angie D. was of-fered at 4 to 2. The mare lost her feet again in the start, but recovered immediately and got the pole from T. N. B., leading the gelding by half a length at the quarter. At the half the two were together. Coming along the back stretch the mare skipped, but she had already been passed by T. N. B., who won the heat in a rather pretty finish, with Freeland close up with Angle D. second. Time, 2:171/2. T. N. B.'s figure for the fifth heat was ! to 10 and Angle D.'s 5 to 2. There was nothing especially noteworthy in the pace till the last eighth was entered. Angle D. was leading here, the grey gelding close up. It was a whipping finish to the wire and under it, Dickerson pushing his charge

On the "Kindergarten" Plan. The gamblers are apparently the only ones that are not priding themselves over the fact that Indianapolis is in the midst of one of the largest horse-race meetings ever held in the country. The reason therefor is because chuck-a-luck and other games of chance have been barred from the State fair grounds while the races are on. Superintendent Powell sent a large force grounds yesterday as a protection for the people against confidence men and pickpockets who, as it was thought, might escape the vigilance of the special officers. None of the thieves were observed at work. Superintendent Powell, who was also present, was standing watching one of the close heats of the 2:16 trot when a man, a gambler, as was evident from his style of dress, tapped him on the shoulder in no mild manner. The superintendent looked around quickly and said: "Well, The conversation was then somewhat like this: "Are you the superintendent of police?" "Yes, sir." "Well, I would like to have a few remarks with "All right," said Superintendent Powell, 'you can say all you want to and I won't

The gambler's face brightened up greatly at the last sentence, and he said in his open manner, which had given him the name of "Westerner" among the sporting fraternity, "Well, Superintendent, you seem to be enjoying the races, but there are many here that are not. If these races were not conducted on a kindergarten plan, why there would have been ten times the number here that are. 'Chuck-a-luck' and the other games are necessary to a race, I tell you, and if these had been allowed you would now see something of the liveliness of an old-time race meet.

The Superintendent was rather abashed at first, but finally said, as the heat in the trot was finished amidst great excitement. and the spectators were seemingly going frantic in their enthusiasm, "That don't look like the races are not being enjoyed. Why, those people up there are worth ten times their number of the gambling set who go to a race only to make money, because they came here to enjoy the fun and see a fine piece of horseflesh. I am sorry for you, but the kindergarten plan seems to suit the majority.' The small number of known confidence men and crooks in the city is surprising the police. Usually the police have their hands full taking care of the wayward gentlemen, but this week none have been arrested There have been a number of suspicious characters arrested and held on charges of loitering. Six foriorn tramps, who claimed to be the remnants of a small band of Commonwealers that left Washington some time ago, were arrested west of White river yesterday by patrolman J. C. Johnson. As the tramps carried razors, which were perhaps used only for tollet purposes, they were further charged with carrying concealed weapons. Alix to Go To-Day.

The great special event at the races this afternoon, and one which is being much discussed among horsemen, is the effort that will be made by Alix to lower the world's record for trotters (2:04, made by Nancy Hanks.) With the possible exception of Directum, Alix is the only horse in the world that has sufficient speed to do this. She has trotted several quarters in thirty seconds, and at Terre Haute, three weeks ago, she trotted the third heat in a race in 2:051/4, a phenomenal performance. made the same time at Fort Wayne last week, without any special urging. Mr. Salisbury said last night that Alix was apparently in the best of condition, and if the track should be all right to-day, and it will be unless there should be further rain, he expected her to go faster than she has ever gone before. A mare that can trot a third heat in a race in 2:05% certainly should be able to go much faster in a trial against time, with a running mate. It is very easily within the range of possibility that Alix will equal, if she does not lower, the world's record this afternoon.

The Two-Minute Pacer. BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 4.-Cicero Hamlin, owner of Fantasy and Robert J., has returned from Fort Wayne, highly elated with the successes of his horses there. He says Robert J. can go two seconds faster than his new record of 2:03%, and when asked if the pacer could travel a mile in two minutes flat, replied: "I would not let Robert J. pace in two minutes for anything. What a back number he would be then. People would not care to see him after he had reached his limit and could not approach it again. Mr. Hamlin believes that Alix can do better than her present record of 2:0514 when she starts at Terre Haute, which track is two seconds faster, he thinks, than that at Fort Wayne. He said that Fantasy may yet beat the four-year-old record of 2:05%, held by Directum, and promises that the filly shall be seen in a race against aged horses ere the season

Pool Prices.

Pooling on to-day's racing was spirited enough last night to suit the most exacting bookmaker. A big crowd of horsemen and other gentlemen, who nervously fingered their ducats as auctioneer Fitzgerald called out the favorites, stood in front of the board at the Grand Hotel for an hour last night. In the unfinished 2:16 trot, to be done to-day, Piletta and Nina Medium were favorites. They sold for $10, while the field went at $7. Dr. Halle and Frank Agan sold for $10 in the 2:15 pace. Lottle Lorraine brought $5 in the same class, the field selling for $8. Onaqua, a bay filly entered for the 2:40 trot, sold for $10, and the field against her brought $7.

Directly Also Te-Day.

The track was a little too slow for the trial of speed of Directly, the wonderful pacing colt, yeaterday, and he will be sent to-day, should there be no rain, to go against the world's record for two-year-olds, 2:10%, made by himself at Chicago, week before last. With Alix and Directly as the special attractions to-day, a great crowd should be attracted.

Cost $60. The family residing at No. 99 Downey street left the house and neglected to bolt the doors and windows. During their absence thieves entered the house and stole jewelry of the value of $60.

THE NEW ENGLAND MARE WAS A SURPRISE IN THE 2:14 TROT.

Ralph Wilkes and Redbud Other Winners at Fleetwood Park-At Sheepshead Bay and Latonia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 .- The second day of the Grand Circuit trotting meeting at Fleetwood Park resulted in two one-sided, uninteresting processions and one old-fashion, first-class horse race. In the 2:14 class the California colt, Oro Wilkes, was a favorite over the field. Miss Lida was believed to be his only possibly dangerous contestant, she having trotted in 2:10% recently at Lansing, Mich. Oro Wilkes was heavily backed, and he continued favorite after Miss Lida had won the first heat, the driver of the black stallion not having tried to win as yet. In the second round Goldsmith made a brilliant drive with Oro Wilkes, but the mare once more won, trotting in 2:12% over a track by no means fast. This appeared to decide the race, for nobody expected anything of Fanny Wilcox or Charley C., which had brought up the rear in the first two heats. Miss Lida now became a big favorite, and was heavily played by the former backers of Wilkes in the hope of sav-ing their money. But Miss Lida could not repeat a third time in 2:12, and when John Shillinglaw challenged her with his Fanny Wilcox she made a tired break and settled back beaten. The bay mare from New England won the next two heats and the race without difficulty. Oro Wilkes weakened each time when it came to climbing the hill, and although John Goldsmith drove him until the black colt's tongue hung out he was unable to live it out with the mare. The other two races were hollow affairs, Ralph Wilkes winning almost in a jog and in ridiculously slow time for him. Sum-

Trotting at Windsor. DETROIT, Sept. 4.-Windsor's racing track was never in better condition than at the opening of the fall trotting meeting to-day. The weather was fine, but the crowd present did not exceed one thousand, owing, probably, to threatening weather earlier in the day. There was no excitement over to-day's events. Lillian G. took the three-minute trotting stake of $300 for three-year-olds, none of the other ten entries starting. Her time was 3:05%. Esca went to beat 2:30 in two heats, making the mile in 2:33% and 2:25%. Favorites won in both other events:

"QUEER" RACING.

St. Michael, a Favorite, Finishes Last at Sheepshead Bay.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.-In the second race at Sheepshead Bay, to-day, St. Michael was the choice and heavily backed. He did not seem to have a bit of his speed with him and he finished last. After the race Simms, who rode St. Michael, was called up by the stewards, and then the owner was questioned. No official action was given out, but it was said that it is improbable that the horse or the owner will be allowed to race again. The trainer is Mike Daly, brother of W. C. Daly, who is ruled off already. Watterson was the choice in the fifth race, but he was beaten in a queer ride on the part of Reiff. At the second day's session of the Marion County Teachers' Institute Prof. Geo. W. Bass continued his talk on "Numbers," referring to the mental work to be given a child, the arrangement of the manual, the amount of work that should be laid out, combinations and identifications of numbers, and the kind of teachers to be employed. The idea that any one can teach small children is, he said, altogether wrong. Objects used in teaching numbers to good advantage were suggested by Prof. Bass. The development of fractions was explained and the speaker gave his idea of the best foundation for teaching children their numbers. He explained at some length the simplest combinations of numbers to use in such instruction. Prof. Elstun followed with a continua-tion of his address on "Language," referring to nature teaching, the capability of the child, the introduction of new subjects and the teaching of morals to chil-dren. He named a list of reasonable topics for instruction in language and advised the teachers to give much attention to their readings, especially those that bear directly upon the subject in view. He referred again to the learning of new ideas from nature. The session will be continued to-day and until Friday evening.
